CONFIDENCE PROBLEMS OF UNIVERSITY STUDENTS WHEN SPEAKING ENGLISH WITH OTHERS

Overcoming the Challenge of Speaking English as a Second Language in University

Lack of confidence is a common challenge faced by university students when expressing themselves in English

Despite having basic skills, many feel nervous and insecure while speaking due to a lack of practice or fear of making mistakes

The fear of not being understood can also contribute to this lack of confidence

- English language learning products often focus on general language skills

- These products may fail to teach students how to express themselves and communicate effectively in English-speaking environments.

How do we know this

Surveys to:

- University students who know the English language.

- Professionals who are familiar with the problem.

Analysis of articles of:

- English confidence issues

- English barriers

- English skills
